

C
A S
T
I N
G

■ STEEL & ALUMINUM CASTING

Steel castings are used when cast irons cannot deliver enough strength or shock resistance to the materials. Steel casting are categorized into two general groups; carbon steel and alloy steels. Alloy steel castings are broken down into two categories: low alloy steel and high alloy steels.

Grand Tiger is equipped to carry out the steel and aluminium casting which follows the International and National standards and regulations for casting.

