■ STRUCTURE

Many a firms have now targeted agriculture as the next area of business. Grand Tiger felt the need of a fabricator in the field. The R&D department of the company made a very serious study on the subject and came up with a solution for affordable structures for Green Houses. A green house would always help cultivation in this part of the world and Grand Tiger would not let our customers down even in this field.

The effective fabrication of Green Houses for various Gardens across the Island has shown that Grand Tiger's customers would never have to knock any other doors for their fabrication and erection needs.
